

GOVERNOR ARNOLD SCHWARZENEGGER

October 23, 2008

California Grand Jurors' Association

Greetings to all who have gathered for the California Grand Jurors' Association's 2008 Annual Conference.

California's grand jury system is a crucial component of this state's justice system, giving the accused equal treatment under the law and ensuring that our local governments are operating efficiently, effectively and impartially. Our state's grand juries can continue to serve our counties only because of the many citizens who volunteer their time to become highly qualified grand jurors.

I commend both the present and past grand jurors for their devotion to clean and transparent government and for their loyal and thoughtful service. I also want to thank CGJA for their continued mission to educate the public on the valuable work that grand juries do for this Golden State.

Please accept my best wishes for a memorable conference and every continued success.

Sincerely,
