Annual Conference Update!

By Lloyd Bell, Annual Conference Chair

There is still time to register for the 2016 CGJA Annual Conference!

Just a friendly reminder that there is still time to register for the 2016 CGJA Annual Conference. The reservation deadline for conference registrations has been extended until October 31, 2016. Reservations can be made online at www.cgja.org, or you may print out a registration form and mail it to us. Either way, you will want to act now to reserve your place.

Reservations for hotel rooms at the Crowne Plaza Sacramento must be made by the original reservation date of October 24 in order to receive preferred CGJA rates.

As a conference attendee, you will be provided scheduled time to mix and mingle to renew old acquaintances and make new friends. You'll be introduced to the new CGJA officer leadership, and meet the new directors as a result of the recent election. You'll learn the name of the newest Angelo Rolando recipient, and learn which report was selected for the Excellence in Reporting award. The keynote address by Carole D'Elia, executive director of the Little Hoover Commission is sure to be enlightening. Finally, be a witness to the Lifetime Achievement Award presentation to CGJA President Karen Jahr.

Plan now to join us in Sacramento. We are looking forward to seeing you again.

If you have already registered for the conference, thank you, and we apologize for this extra message.
